International (Working) Women's Day

Date when celebrated: March 8th

International Women's Day is sponsored worldwide by the United Nations. However, the UN did not originate this special celebration. The roots of this celebration goes back to the late 1800's and early 1900s. It grew from women's socialist movements and early women's trade union groups.

The first International Women's Day was held March 19, 1911. Women socialists and trade unions held an earlier Women's Day on the last Sunday in February, 1908. The event grew from there, and has been celebrated annually since. The focus is upon women workers, and advancing women's rights in the workforce, politics and society.

How to Copy & Paste on iPad

Using copy and paste on iPad is easy, and much like copying and pasting on a desktop computer or Mac, you can copy just about anything to the iPad clipboard and paste it just about anywhere that will accept input. Whether you want to copy and paste a text clip, a photo or picture, video, drawing, or nearly anything else does not matter, as long as you can select it, it can be copied and then pasted elsewhere into a different app.

We'll show you how to copy and paste using the iPad contextual menus found in iOS, as well as a few handy tricks unique to iPad that allow you to paste any copied data by using the onscreen keyboard, or using keystrokes to cut, copy, and paste with iPad and Smart Keyboard.

This will copy data from one source to the iPad clipboard, and then paste from the iPad clipboard into a new location:

1. Open the app where you'd like to select and copy something from, for example Safari
2. Tap and hold to select what you'd like to copy to iPad clipboard, use the selection grabber if necessary
3. Now choose the "Copy" option from the pop-up menu to copy the selected text or image to the clipboard on iPad
4. Open the app where you would like to paste the copied item into, for example the Notes app, or a Mail composition window
5. Tap and hold on the screen where you'd like to paste the clipboard data into, then choose "Paste"

The copied item, text, picture, movie, or data will now be pasted into the new app where you chose the Paste command.

How Do You Cut & Paste on iPad?

Cut and paste and copy and paste on iPad are nearly identical, with a few minor but important differences.

To perform a cut and paste rather than copy and paste, you simply choose "Cut" from the pop-up contextual menu item when you have selected the text as outlined above.

Pasting the cut text or data is exactly the same as before.

Remember, when you use "Cut" and paste you are literally cutting the data from the source and then moving it to the pasted location. Cut differs from copy in that it “cuts” it out of the original location, whereas copy simply copies it.

Note that you can only “cut” a piece of text, picture, or data from a selected source that can be edited, like a dynamic document, email, or message thread. A static selected source only allows the “copy” function since it can not be modified, like a web page rendered in Safari.

Pasting with iPad Virtual Keyboard

There’s another great copy, cut, and paste feature that is unique to iPad, and it utilizes the onscreen virtual keyboard.

iPad users can also paste any data from the clipboard that has been copy or cut by using the keyboard paste tool, accessible by tapping on the little undo button and then choosing the square overlapping a clipboard icon.

This keyboard based paste function will use the exact same clipboard data as the contextual menu version.

Cut, Copy, Paste on iPad with Smart Keyboard Keystrokes

iPad users who have the Smart Keyboard can use specific keyboard shortcuts to perform the clipboard modifying actions. Using the keystrokes to cut, copy and paste on iPad still require you to select data first, but then you can use the Smart Keyboard to interact with the clipboard.

- Cut – Command + X
- Copy – Command + C
- Paste – Command + V

Desktop computer users should recognize these keystrokes as being the same copy and paste keystrokes used on Mac, using the same command key functions, and they should be familiar to Windows users as well except that they use the Command key rather than Control key to interact with the clipboard.

Copying & Pasting on iPad to/from Other Devices with Universal Clipboard

One of the more interesting features brought to modern iOS and Mac OS versions is the cross-platform Universal Clipboard feature. Using Universal Clipboard allows you to copy and paste to or from an iPad and another completely different device, whether it’s another iPad, Mac, iPhone, or iPod touch

Hints/Tips

Faster Finder

If you can even see a sliver of the Desktop it's easy to get a new Finder window up: Tap the desktop and type Command and N. A new Finder menu will appear, just like any new document in any app. Now you can get to whatever you need. It gets better: Imagine you've been downloading something in Safari and you want to quickly find it in your Downloads folder: All you need to do is tap the Desktop then type Command, Option and L to open the Downloads folder.
